Ladston D. Reed, pioneer banker, merchant and planter of Hope, died at 3:30 a. m. Sunday at his home, 715 South Elm street, at the age of 78. He had been ill the past six months.

Born in Gordon, (Clatsop County) Ore., December 25, 1859, he moved with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Reed, to Hope 62 years ago. He had made Hope his home since then.

Funeral 2:30 Monday

Friends who knew him best gathered at 2:30 Monday at his home where funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. R. Hamilton, pastor of First Baptist church. Burial followed in Rose Hill cemetery.

Thompson, R. A. Boyett, James Atchinson, R. M. LaGrone, Sr., E. S. Greening, O. A. Graves, Arch Moore, C. C. Sprague, John P. Vesey, Dr. D. Smith, Walter Carter, Dr. P. B. Carrigan, Tom Wadlow, C. S. Lowthorp, B. R. Hamm, Dr. A. C. Kolb, C. F. Rounton, Sr., K. G. McRae, Sr., John Haynes, R. M. Brint, A. L. Black, Luther Holloman, William Temple of Texarkana.

Surviving are two brothers, S. L. Reed and O. L. Reed of Hope, four sisters, Mrs. Ada Rhodes, Miss Zenobia Reed, Mrs. Birdie Key, and Mrs. Annie Mae Hutchinson, all of Hope.

Business Activities
At the time of his death, Mr. Reed was vice-president of the Citizens National bank, president of the Hope Hardware company, a senior member of the firm Reed & Co., stockholder of the Hope Auto company and held extensive land holdings in Hempstead and adjoining counties.

Soon after moving to Hope at the age of 16, he became associated with his father in the contracting business. Later he entered the mercantile business with the late W. A. Rhodes under the firm name of Rhodes & Reed.

Mr. Reed was one of the founders of Citizens National bank. He served as a director of that institution more than 30 years. He was elevated to the vice-presidency several years ago, a position he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Reed was one of the original founders of Hope Hardware company and was active in the organization of Hope Auto company. He was a stockholder of both concerns and was president of Hope Hardware company at the time of his death.

With one of his brothers, S. L. Reed, he founded the firm of Reed & Company in 1885, being a senior member of that concern.

Ill Past Six Months
Mr. Reed was actively engaged in his various business activities when stricken with illness about six months ago, forcing him into retirement.

As one close friend expressed it Monday, his death "closed a life devoted to business."

During the past six months, Mr. Reed had been confined to his home on South Elm street. However, during that period he made trips to Mayos and Barnes hospitals for treatment.

His condition became worse last week and death resulted at 3:30 a. m. Sunday.

Blevins Girls and Laneburg Boys Win in Hempstead-Nevada County Basketball Games at Blevins Gymn Friday Night

The senior boys team of Central High of Laneburg, Nevada county, defeated the Blevins senior boys 20 to 17 at Blevins gymnasium Friday night, January 1—photo lower left. The Star's camera caught three players off the floor simultaneously.

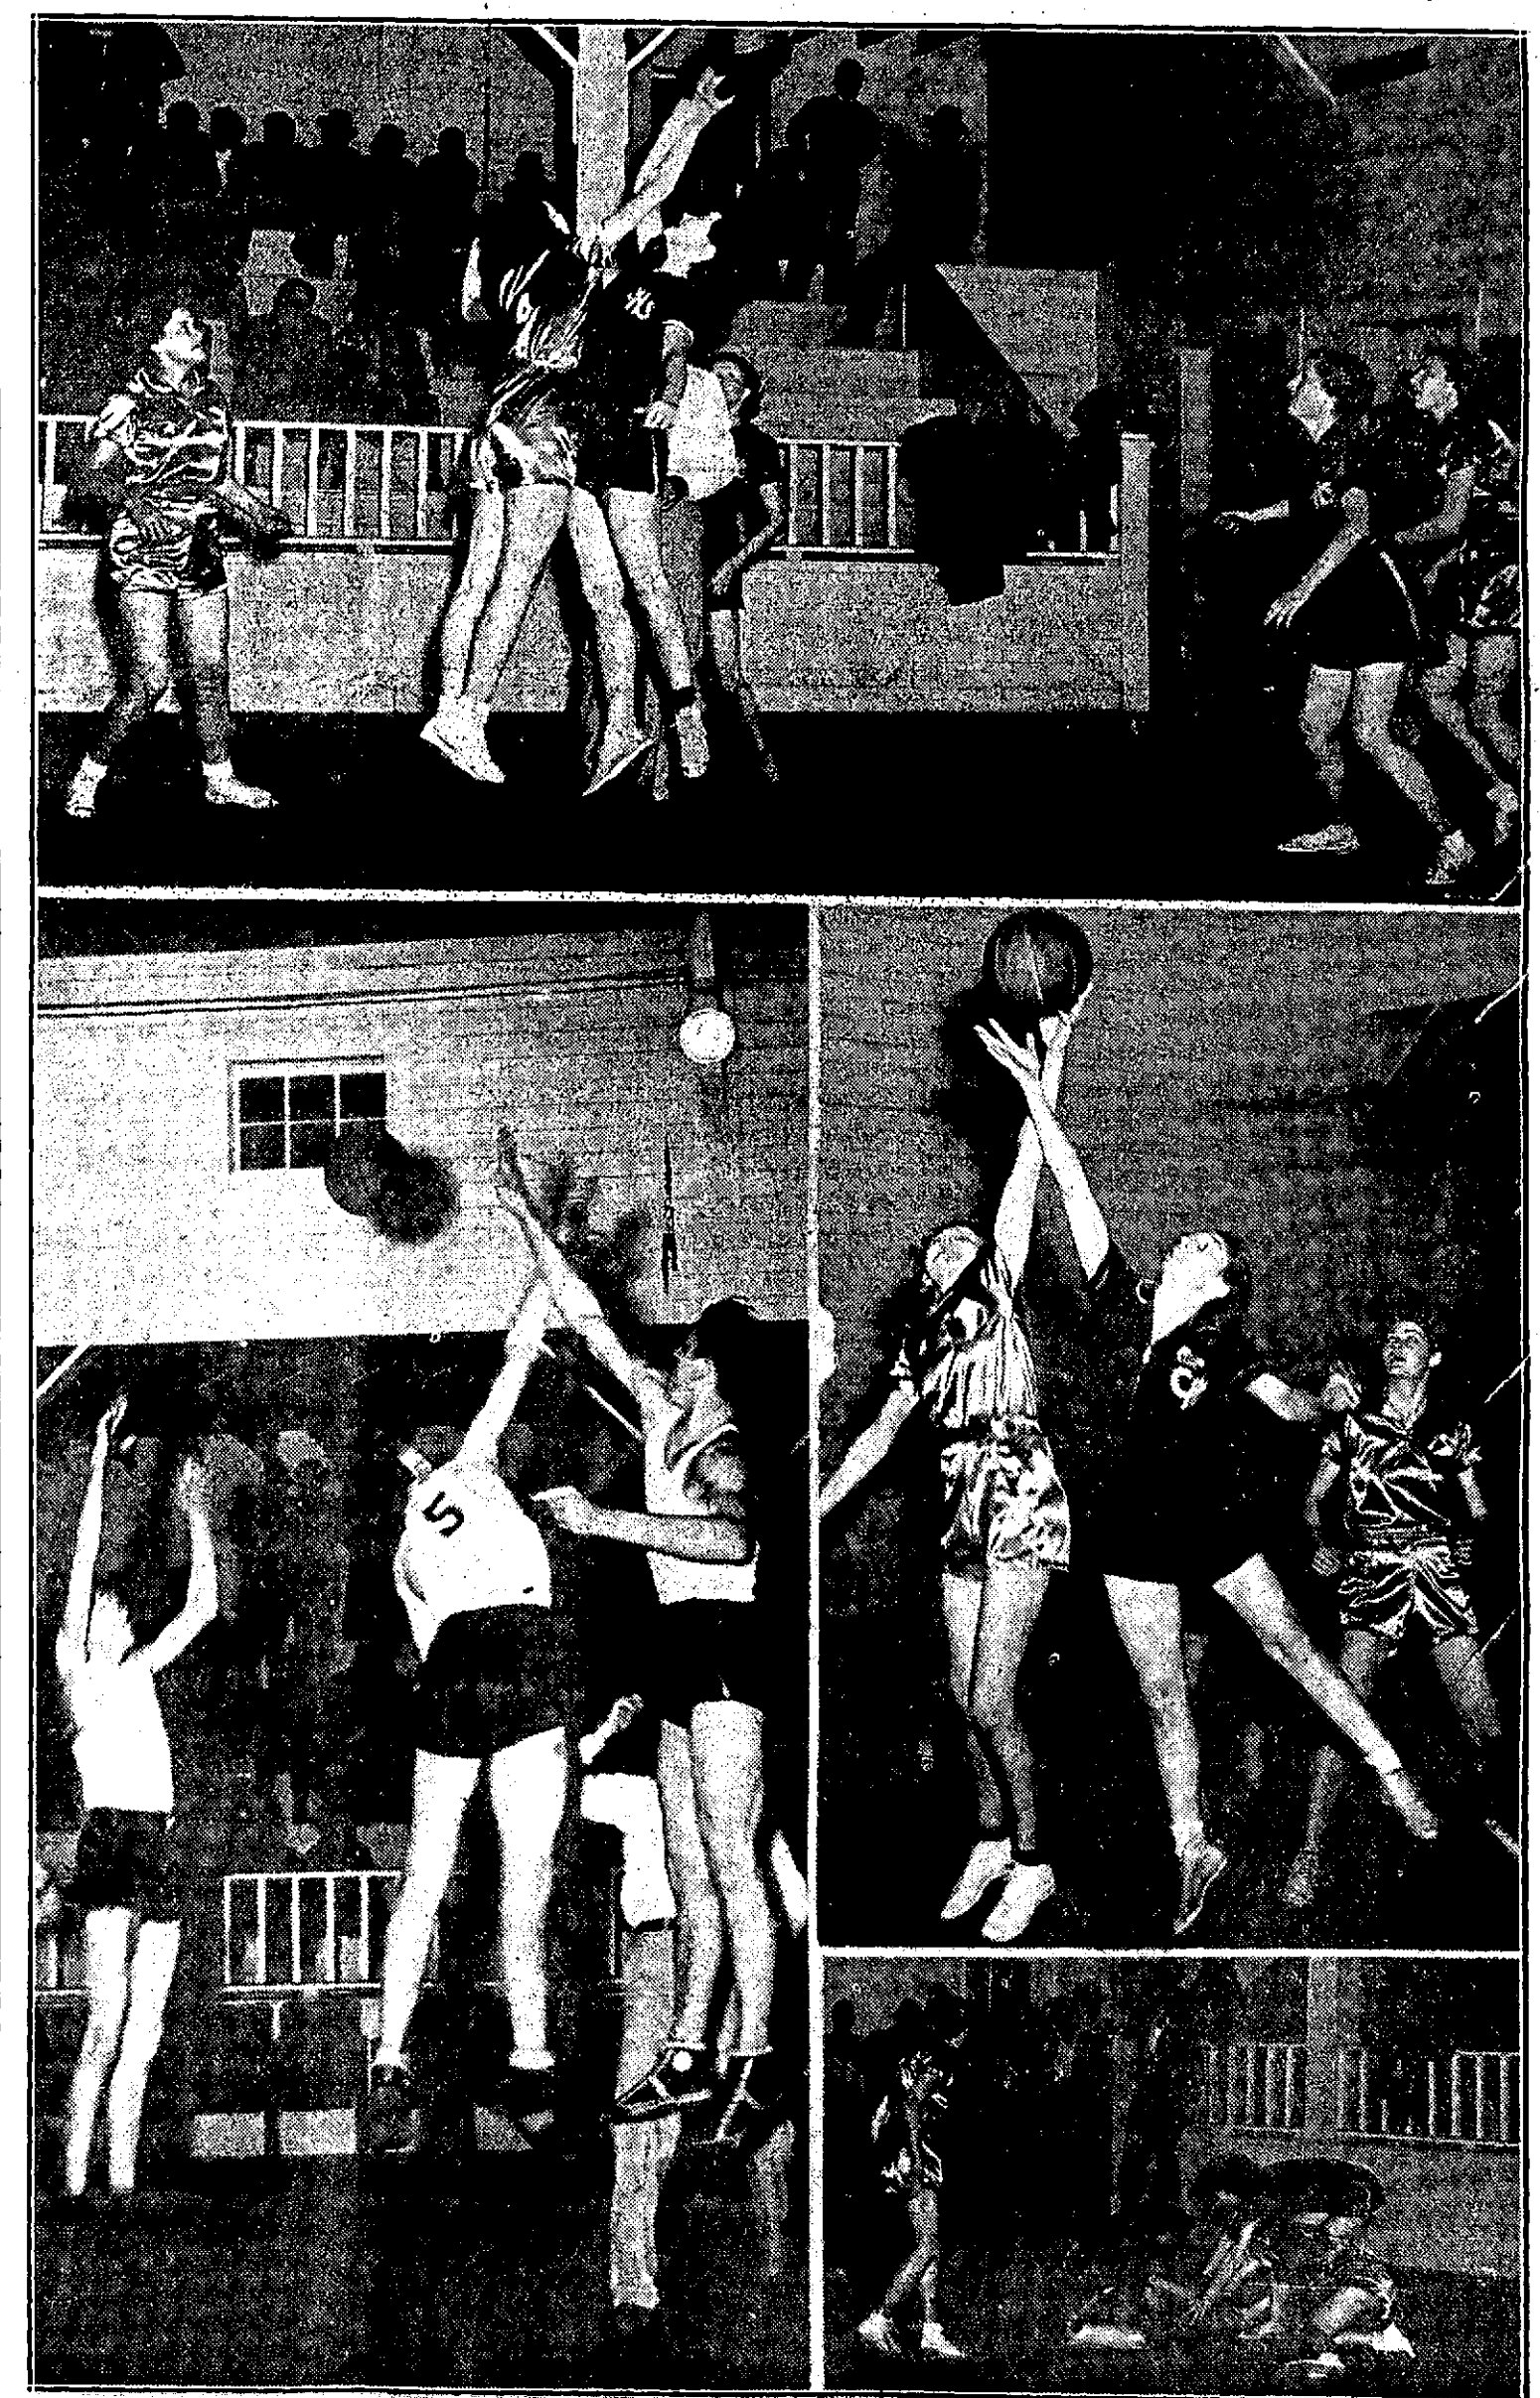

In the same basketball meet the Blevins senior girls defeated the Laneburg girls 10 to 6—top, center right, and lower right photos. Lower right shows three girls on the floor battling for the ball.

Use of Agfa's new Super Pan Press film permitted stopping down the camera to F 11, spreading the in-focus area over practically the entire court. Note, in top photo, that everything is in focus from nearby players clear to the back wall of the building.

Lumber and Brick Oppose Rail Hike

NEW ORLEANS.—(AP)—Southwestern lumber and brick manufacturers expressed disapproval at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing Monday of a proposal by the railroads for a blanket 15 per cent freight rate increase.

Representatives of the Structural Clay Products Institute testified that motor carriers gradually are taking shipments from the railroads on short hauls; and that high rail rates are discouraging long-haul shipments and encouraging the use of substitute building materials.

"We saved about $5,000 during the past season by making short haul shipments in our own trucks," said L. Carter Johnson of Hope, Ark., traffic manager for Hope Brick Works.

Dates and Places for District Ten Meets Announced

Lewisville Awarded Senior Boys Basketball Tournament

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Ashdown Gets Girls Tourney, Track, Field Meet to Texarkana

Officials of District 10 of the Arkansas Athletic association, meeting in Hope Saturday, elected new officers and selected dates and places for holding district basketball tournaments and literary and track events.

Lewisville was awarded the senior boys cage tournament to be played February 25 and 26. The junior boys tournament went to Magnolia, to be played February 18, 19.

Ashdown was awarded the senior girls tournament to be played March 4 and 5. Officials voted for single elimination in all cage tournaments.

Texarkana was the successful bidder for literary, track and field events to be held April 22 and 23.

Hope made no bids for the holding of any of the contests.

For a number of years the track meet and the literary meet have been divided, being held in separate places. However, it has proved unprofitable financially and, this year, the association returned to the old order by consolidating these two events.

The selections for the district meet have been made by the state committee which holds the state contest and track meet the first Friday and Saturday in May.

Muscle Selections
The selection for the muscle contests are the same throughout the entire state. They are as follows:

Girl's Voice—"At Parting," Rogers.
Boy's Voice—"Romany Honeycomb," Ernest Charles.

Boy's Quartet—"Stout Hearted Man" Romberg.
Girls' Trio—"No. 2096," "Gypsy, Play Your Guitar," R. W. Gibb.

Girls' Glee Club—"No. 2096," "March of the Little Tin Soldiers," G. Pieme, setting by Brycecan Trehanne.
Boys' Glee Club—"Come to the Fair," Easthope Martin.

Violin—"Chidiz," I. Albeniz, arranged by Lussell.

Junior District Meet
The state does not hold a junior meet but district No. 10 has found this very interesting and will hold one again this year. However, the selections for the music contests have not been made up to this date.

The local high school is showing a great deal of interest in the district meet and in all likelihood there will be two or more entries in every event for the preliminary meet which will be held at the local high school on or about April 8.

The new officers for the Board of Control of district No. 10 of the Arkansas Athletic Association and the Arkansas Inter-School Contest Association are:

E. T. Moody, superintendent of schools at Nashville, president; O. A. G. Richardson, superintendent of schools at McNeil, vice-president; V. E. Shannon, superintendent of schools at Stamps, secretary; J. E. O'Daniel, superintendent of schools at Waldo, treasurer.

House Sustains Constitutional Government, But
Vote Is 209-188

A SHANGHAI CRISIS

British, Angered by Japs,
Call on France and the United States

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The house shelved Monday the proposed war referendum amendment to the constitution, voting 209 to 188 against floor consideration of the proposal.

The motion went down to defeat shortly after Speaker Bankhead read a letter from President Roosevelt condemning the amendment.

Showdown at Shanghai

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—The British government Monday declared opposition to any permanent administrative changes in the international settlement at Shanghai such as have been demanded by the Japanese conquerors of that area.

Britain was authoritatively represented as ready to agree to some of the Japanese demands for increased power in the rule of the settlement.

Officials refused to indicate on what points the government was ready to meet the Japanese demands, but it was intimated that they included Japanese representation on the settlement police force.

Opposes War Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt telegraphed his opposition to a war referendum amendment for the constitution to a letter sent to Speaker Bankhead Monday, shortly before the house was to consider taking up the proposal.

Bankhead planned to read the letter to the house in advance of the vote on a motion to permit consideration of an amendment.

Democratic leaders continued their efforts to persuade the legislators to vote down the motion, but admitted the Republicans held the balance of power.

Some leaders said privately that one reason they desired to dispose of Ludlow's legislation quickly was that any prolonged debate might include "incendiary talk" about other nations.

Full discussion and passage of the amendment was demanded by four peace organizations in an open letter to house members. The letter asserted that a referendum would serve notice on other countries that, if the American people were aroused to war, "they would enter the conflict of their own free will and with a determination that would make them a doubly dangerous foe."

Peace Lobby
It was signed by the National Council for Prevention of War, the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, World Peaceways, and the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

Representative Fish (Rep., N. Y.) asserted that opponents had engaged in "misleading propaganda." He referred especially to the assertion of Speaker Bankhead that alien forces were supporting the proposal.

Representative Bigelow (De., O.), in a broadcast debate with Representative Celler (Dem., N. Y.), said no war should be declared "without the direct consent of the people who must do the paying and the dying." Celler asserted disunion of a nation in time of war was "fatal" and that disunion would be intensified "by the self-seeking demagogues who would be let loose by the referendum."

It was a sad day for the earth. When many stole the stamp of worth. And men began to judge a friend merely by what he had to spend. True aristocracy requires descendants who reflect their sires in courage and in purpose true. Who, whether dress be old or new, still meet the simple moral test of holding fast to what is best. A dozen poverty are worse than is the poverty of purse. Poorest of all on earth is he who lacks the thought to kindly be. Or lacks those beauties of the mind which mark a mortal as refined. Once more we turn again to see how lasting graciousness can be; how great is honor and how fine a faith in joy that are divine. That using well the gift of birth be the tetrach proof of worth. —E. A. CHICAGO.—(AP)—Swirling eastward, snow covered most of the midwest Sunday in the heaviest fall of the winter for many sections.

Government Plans Another Alcatraz

To Build Strong Prison for Incurable Gang "Molls"

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The federal government proposes to build "another Alcatraz" for hard-boiled women convicts.

Details have not been disclosed, but informed persons indicated that the institution probably would be located in Eastern Kentucky, Eastern Texas, or at Briggs, Okla., where officials already have inspected tentative sites.

The government already has a prison for "incurable" men convicts on Alcatraz Island, in San Francisco bay.

In his recent budget message to congress, President Roosevelt recommended appropriation of $1,500,000 to start construction of three new penal institutions. One of these will be exclusively for women, department officials said.

Construction of a strong prison for incurable gang "molls" is advocated by Attorney General Cummings, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the "G-men," and Director James V. Bennett of the Federal Bureau of Prisons.

The department already has special facilities for housing women prisoners at Alderson, W. Va., and Milan, Mich. However, Bennett told Attorney General Cummings last week that a population in the industrial reform-

Mild Winter Forces Price of Eggs Down

CHICAGO.—(AP)—The mild, open winter which has encouraged hens to "lay their heads off" has forced egg prices down approximately 20 per cent in two months market figures showed Monday.

Starting around November 1, when production normally decreases and withdrawals from storage show a marked increase, receipts of fresh eggs have been heavy, so heavy in fact that at times there was little market for fresh arrivals because dealers were trying to unload storage eggs.

The price of extra firsts, a standard used for delivery in carload units, has dropped from 29½ cents a dozen, wholesale, around No. 1, to 22½ cents, the current closing price.

Trade reports say fresh production continues apace.

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Casarea for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote, perfectly blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Creomulsion is the treatment of choice in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones that start as just a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. DO COW-PUNCHERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS?

TED YOCHUM was born and raised in the cattle country. Speaking from personal observation, Ted says: "Cow-punchers are great Camel smokers. Seems like if a man smokes Camels once—he sticks to 'em. CHIEF SIGNALMAN John Geraghty: "You don't have to be a railroad man to know that speed and safety—our watchwords—call for healthy nerves. I smoke plenty. Camels don't jangle my nerves."

SALESGIRL Elsie Schumacher works in a department store. She says: "When the rush gets me to feeling worn out—it's me for a Camel, and I get a quick 'lift.' Practically all of us girls in the store prefer Camels."

PERSONAL SHOPPER Irene Sherwood says: "I guess every woman knows how hectic shopping is. I'm up against that six days a week. When I'm fatigued, I light up a Camel. It helps me to snap back."

Morley Jennings Will Remain Baylor Mentor

WACO, Texas.—(AP)—The Waco News-Tribune said over the week-end Morley Jennings, crafty coach of Baylor University's football team, would remain at his present post.

Jennings tersely advised the newspaper he would not accept any outside offers. His name had been linked with the University of Mississippi coaching jobs, reports from the Southern institution giving him the inside rail on the job.

To questions as to whether he had considered the Mississippi position, Jennings characteristically replied: "I have no comment to make."

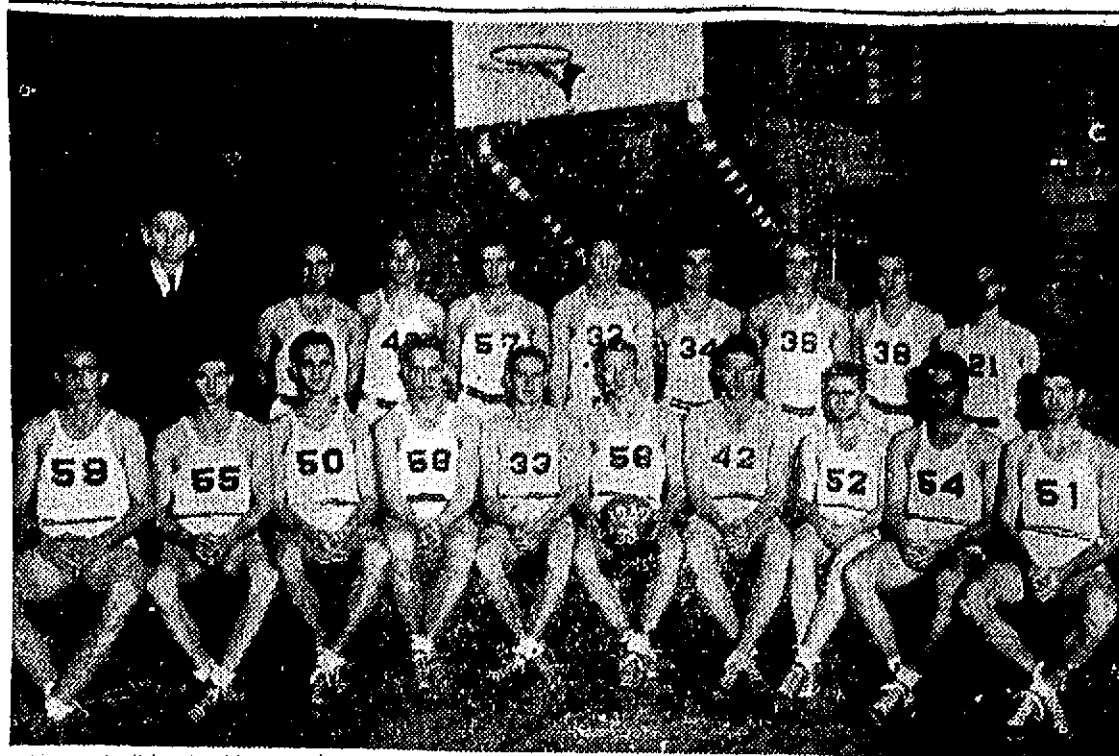

He said he was happily situated at Baylor, was in complete harmony with the faculty and president, and did not care to make a change.

Baseball Scouts Hit Spring Grid Is Big Handicap to Baseball Prospects, Director Asserts

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

CHICAGO.—The American League is approximately four miles ahead of the National in the matter of promotion.

I name that distance between "Batter Up!" is the fourth and finest instructional sound picture put out by the junior circuit. In four years 12,000,000 people have seen these films.

Asked to name the biggest handicap in the development of young ball players, Lou Fosse, promotional director of the American League, unhesitatingly answers, "Spring football."

"Football in the fall is bad enough," explains the old first baseman, batting champion and White Sox manager. "But spring practice prevents a boy from playing baseball at all."

"I wouldn't give you a list of the fine prospects lost to baseball because of football... young men who passed up bonuses for signing and 10 years or more of rather important money just to delight rooting sections."

Come From Colleges
Baseball rapidly was being wiped out of football-minded high schools and colleges when Fosse tackled his present assignment in 1934. To be exact, there were 267 major colleges playing baseball then, the great majority of them in a half-hearted way. In 1938, there will be 415 major colleges rather excited about baseball.

Fifty per cent of major league talent now comes from the colleges.

"The place to catch the young ball player is in high school," says Fosse. "That's where he chooses his major sport."

This is why the American League plans to conduct an eight weeks' baseball school in six cities this summer, with youngsters from 8 to 17 years of age eligible.

The plan was tried out in Chicago last year, when 40,000 kids attended. Teams were formed, eliminated, and finally the Cubs and Sox Juniors played for the championship. Five members of these clubs signed professional contracts. One of them belongs to a major league club.

High School Tournament
Fosse has organized a high school tournament for the state of Iowa next season, and hopes to make it a national one.

The American League is to conduct clinics in scores of colleges this spring. Classes will be conducted on 10 Saturdays in March and April. High school coaches will be invited.

Fosse believes that more boys are playing baseball today than ever, but says that they do not play enough of it. Their minds are on automobiles, football, golf and other things.

A motion picture hobby started Fosse on his present mission, and the American League's initial appropriation for his work was exactly $10,000. Today the department runs into thousands of dollars.

The department formerly had to campaign for places to show the American League films. Now it can't fill the requests.

Baseball still suffers from a dearth of playing talent, but this condition shouldn't exist for long... not if young America catches any small part of Lou Fosse's enthusiasm.

Squirrel Gets Toothache From Shelled Nuts

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(AP)—Don't feed your pet squirrel shelled nuts unless you want to pay a dentist's bill, advises John S. Benson.

Benson had to take his squirrel to the dentist to have the pet's teeth filed down. After treating the patient, the dentist prescribed a diet of unshelled nuts to keep the squirrel's teeth slim and strong.

The John Deere Model 'B' Disk Harrow

Is the most efficient and serviceable harrow of its type. Improvements made in the Model "B" from time to time, to meet the changing conditions, have kept this harrow the leader in its field.

The special long-wearing heat-treated steel used in John Deere disk blades is the most satisfactory material so far discovered for the purpose. This type of disk outlasts the ordinary blade and holds its edge for a longer time. The main reason for the Model B's outstanding success is its extreme flexibility—the capacity to penetrate, pulverize and pack the soil its entire width in any condition where a disk harrow can be used to advantage. We will be glad to have you come in and see this harrow.

Budget Fixed for LaFayette County

Quorum Court Sets Operating Expenses for Next Fiscal Year

BRADLEY, Ark.—LaFayette county quorum court met last week at Lewisville and set the budget for operating expenses for the county for the fiscal year 1938.

Judge Jonah Reeves presided over the court, other members of which are the seventeen justices of the peace of the county.

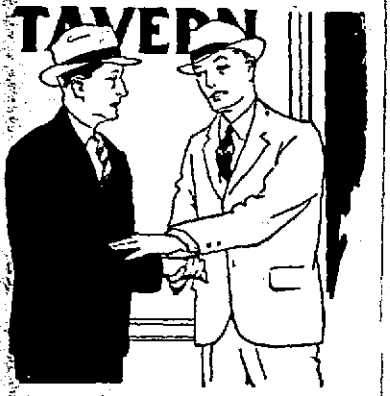

The justices are as follows: J. E. Christie, J. D. Crabtree, William Stevens, J. F. Solvin, Roy Fish, L. T. Park, C. C. Colvin, H. D. Lindsey, A. L. Park, T. M. Shumake, C. V. Bray, A. W. J. Young, George Russell, Olyn Powell, Arthur Baker, G. C. Smith, W. G. Chambers was the only one absent.

They voted to raise the salaries of the home demonstration agent, Mrs. Mary Yates, and the county farm agent, Ben Rice, two hundred dollars per year, making their salaries $2200 each per year.

They also set aside $300 as a contingent fund to be used by the county health nurse as incidental expenses for the needy patients.

They elected an equalization board of three men as follows: P. M. Allen of Bradley, W. H. Bray of Lewisville and Arthur Baker of Stamps. They will meet the first Monday and Tuesday in February to set the valuation on property to be taxed.

Safe and Sane DRIVING

"A Couple of Highwalls"

City and state reports now show that motor is a factor in from six to eight percent of all fatal motor vehicle accidents.

This does not mean necessarily that a drunken driver or a drunken pedestrian was at fault. Few individuals involved in accidents are really drunk, but many "had been drinking." Often there was just enough liquor involved to warp the judgment for that fraction of a second when swift and sure reaction to danger would have meant

Knudsen Smile Hid His Worry

Genial William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors, appeared to be enjoying his appearance, pictured above, before the Senate unemployment committee, but he was intensely serious as he explained the lay-off of 30,000 employees in General Motors plants. Knudsen expressed belief the recession was only temporary, and outlined plans for construction of five new G. M. plants.

The difference between life and death, "I had a few drinks," says the shaking motorist, as he climbs out of the wreckage. And that may be true. But a very small amount of alcohol is sufficient to over-stimulate the brain, create a false confidence, urge a little more pressure on the throttle, and blur those fine senses of mind that are necessary for accurate and quick action in emergency.

Speed and booze NEVER mix. Even a single drink may be too many. After an evening of highballs, leave the driving to someone who has not been drinking. If you do drink and drive, you are much more likely to have an accident—perhaps a serious one—and the law will surely hold you accountable.

Broilers Discussed at Blevins Meet

28 Farmers Attend Session on Local Market Conditions

A group of 28 farmers met at Blevins school building Monday night, January 3. The main subject discussed was broilers. M. L. Nelson, local poultry dealer, opened the discussion. Mr. Nelson plans on handling the marketing situation, his 20 years of experience as a poultry dealer will be a great asset to local growers.

Mr. Nelson was followed by M. C. McKibbin, representative of Nutrine Mills of Kansas City, Kans. Mr. McKibbin made a very beneficial contribution to the meeting.

Mr. Smith, county agent, and Miss Bullington, county home demonstration agent, were guests at the meeting. The last speaker was A. L. Reed, vocational agricultural instructor of Blevins schools.

This district will have about 15,000 broilers housed in 42 modern well-ventilated houses. The farmers of Hempstead county are invited to watch this enterprise and visit when they wish and to attend any evening school meetings also.

Tin Not Poisonous

Tin cans are not the offenders that some people think. The prevalent idea that if food is left in an open tin can various poisonous substances are apt to develop, has no foundation in fact, according to nutrition authorities.

Food poisoning is usually caused by eating food containing certain bacteria or their products. It is, in most instances, due to the improper preparation, handling or storage of food. Miss Gertrude E. Conant, extension nutritionist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture, explains. All canned foods are subjected to thorough heating at temperatures high enough to destroy all pathogenic bacteria and their products, and also the most resistant organisms which cause spoilage of food. Hence, the freshly opened can is the cleanest container in the average kitchen.

There is no reason why the food should be removed from the can immediately. It will not spoil any more quickly in the food than in any other open container.

If, however, the food is acid, it may act slowly on the tin after air is admitted and small amounts of metal may be absorbed. These substances are perfectly harmless, but may give a slight taste to the food, the nutritionist adds.

First Ladies, Past and Present, of House and Senate

Birds of a feather flock together, even at the opening of Congress. Pictured as they gathered to take seats in the gallery of the House of Representatives are the wives and widows of past and present presiding officers; left to right, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, widow of the late Speaker of the House; Mrs. Frederick H. Gillette, wife of another former Speaker; Mrs. William B. Bankhead, wife of the present Speaker.

ed to the temperatures of boiling water. Non-acid vegetables, however, have to be subjected to much higher temperatures, and these are obtained through the use of steam pressure. The higher the pressure, the higher the temperature. The hermetic seal ten protects the food from further contamination, the nutritionist said.

Pruning Trees

Young trees can be pruned to avoid the unattractive "sling-shot" appearance that so often occurs. When two branches of equal length develop on the young tree, one can be shortened to make the other leader dominant. Side branches should be trimmed off for about 6 feet, as a low-branched tree is not satisfactory, suggests P. T. Ecton, extension horticulturist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

In older trees, the most conflicting branches should be sawed out to prevent rubbing and crowding. In removing large limbs, Mr. Ecton advises sawing slightly just below the final cut so that the bark will not be stripped. Sawing should be done close to the limb or trunk so that a stub will not be left to interfere with healing the cut, and the cuts should be painted over to prevent rotting. Sprouts should be trimmed off the trunk, and the borders killed with a hooked wire.

Leaning trees that are still fairly young can be straightened by bracing with a wire pegged to the ground and gradually tightened. The wire should be padded with garden hose or old rubber tire to prevent cutting the bark.

Canning of Meat

No fried meat should be canned, as the fat usually becomes rancid upon standing. It is also important that meat should not be overcooked before it is placed in the can or jar, according to Miss Gertrude E. Conant, extension nutritionist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture. Heating a roast through about 30 minutes is sufficient before processing. When it is processed at 15 pounds pressure for one hour, the meat is cooked well done.

One reason why spoilage occurs is inefficiency of the steam gauge. Pressure cookers should be tested before any meat canning is done, Miss Conant says. A temperature of 249 degrees Fahrenheit is correct for 15 pounds pressure, and any gauge that registers as low as 223 degrees at 15 pounds pressure should be replaced.

The testing is done with a "maximum" thermometer. The thermometer is placed in a small jar, to keep it

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

'Monopolistic Prices' Pointed Out as Key to Puzzle of More Business and Less Money

WASHINGTON—Even the late Harry Houdini could never figure out how a country could have higher prices, less money to spend and, at the same time, as much or more business than before.

That's the chief factor behind more and more public talk about prices—especially "monopolistic" prices—and the possibility of congressional investigations and anti-trust laws.

One is entitled to ask: What is this price situation about which so much fuss is being made?

Forty per cent of the wholesale business in commodities is being done in goods whose prices are higher than they were in September, 1929. This fact has been worked out from Department of Labor statistics as of last September, which showed that 281 of the 784 items on which price figures are collected were higher at that time than on the eve of the big depression eight years ago.

Against those figures, say the anti-monopolists, is the fact that the income of consumers is a third lower than it was in 1929.

Still Held Rigid

Some prices have gone down since last summer. The fire from Congress and government officials is being directed at price-fixing industries which began to boost prices in the fall of 1936 and now continue to hold them rigid. Because of rapid technological improvement and labor saving methods, it is contended there are few if any justifications for prices above the 1929 level.

The average wholesale price level last September was 90 per cent of 1929. The following groups of commodities, as of September, were above 1929 prices:

Coke by 2.4 per cent; cement, 11 per cent; drugs and pharmaceuticals, 10 per cent; bituminous coal, 8.7 per cent; woolen and worsted goods, 6.6 per cent.

Iron and steel, 5.1 per cent; paper and pulp, 5.1 per cent; lumber, 4.3 per cent; miscellaneous building materials, 3.7 per cent; automobile tires and tubes, 3.5 per cent; shoes, 1.3 per cent.

Choes, clothing, and meats were slightly higher. Farm machinery, automobiles, cereal products, and furniture were above 1929 prices, while toward the bottom of the list were silk and rayon, 40 per cent; fruit and vegetables, 38.6 miscellaneous farm products, 14.3, and dairy products, 79.8.

Many Blame Labor

Widespread opinion is that price increases have been due to wage increases obtained by organized labor. Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, the administration's anti-trust crusader, after a speech in New York in which he attacked high fixed prices, received a snail snowstorm of letters from persons who blamed labor.

Now Jackson comes back with the results of a detailed and authoritative study by federal statisticians following the 10 per cent wage increase in the steel industry, the most dramatic and important increase of the year.

He says the wage increases could have been covered by a 5.5 per cent price increase—or 9.1 per cent to cover higher material costs due to wage increases elsewhere—but that the actual 1936-37 steel price increase was 21 per cent.

Jackson and the New Deal economists are willing to admit that, at the other extreme, many prices (unfixed) may be "too low."

Whatever administration price policy may eventually be, Roosevelt has to accept much responsibility. NRA codes fostered monopoly and price-fixing. The fact that consumers pay 10 per cent more for drugs than in 1929 is largely due to state laws and the Patman-Robinson and Miller-Tydings laws which Roosevelt refused to veto.

Bituminous coal prices are held up by the Guffey act. You can't blame the Morgan, Mellon, Koppers, duPont, U. S. Steel, and similar groups for everything.

Countess Barbara Haultwitz-Reventlow, Woolworth heiress, stayed only 36 hours on her latest trip to the U. S. Maybe she was just checking up on ten-cent store Christmas sales.

Social evils are the conditions which arise from the error and ignorance of men, from their sin and sloth, from their greed and abuse of power.—Itev. Fergus Pease, New York City.

Senator Caraway to Be Candidate

First Formal Statement About 1938 Plans Announced

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas announced today the week-end she would seek re-election this year.

"I will be a candidate for re-election," she said in her first formal statement about her 1938 plans. "I have received letters from all over the state urging me to run. I think I have benefited from the experience I received in the senate during my first full term and it will help me serve the people of Arkansas."

She indicated a more detailed statement would be forthcoming later in the year.

The Arkansas democratic primary involving the senate post now held by Senator Caraway will be held the second Tuesday in August, and the election will be held in November.

Arkansas also votes this year for governor and a full state ticket, including all members of the state legislature, because of a new re-apportionment, and all seven seats in congress will be at stake.

Mrs. Caraway, in the senate six years, is now a member of the committees on agriculture and forestry, commerce, and libraries, and is chairman of the enrolled bills committee.

She still holds the distinction of being the only woman to win full-term election to the senate.

First appointed temporarily to fill the vacancy created by the death of her husband, Senator Thaddeus Caraway in 1931, she was subsequently elected to complete his unexpired term. In 1932 she offered for the full term in a campaign made spectacular by the participation of the late Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana, who came into Arkansas to urge her re-election on a platform of liberal views, personal ability and "the people's interest."

She won a smashing victory over five men opponents.

Mrs. Caraway's home is at Jonesboro, Ark. She has two sons, both army officers.

Politics May Open Soon

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—Announcement by Senator Caraway in Washington that she would seek a second full term in the United States senate may open the flood gates of political announcements for 1938 in Arkansas.

It is going to be a political active year. In the August democratic primary preliminary to the November general election, the dominant party will nominate for the United States senate, all seven congress seats, governor and a full state ticket, as well as for all members of the legislature on account of the new legislative reapportionment law.

Prospectively, there will be plenty of candidates. With Mrs. Caraway's notice on the bulletin board, other major announcements should be forthcoming within the next few weeks.

Some time ago, H. Rosser Venable, Little Rock, who ran against the late Jug T. Robinson in 1936, announced he would be a senate candidate again in 1938.

Saturday night, Bob Prather of Vinny Ridge, a moving spirit in the democratic party "revolt" which put Rep. John E. Miller into the Robinson senate seat last October after Governor Carl E. Bailey had been nominated by the state democratic committee, announced he would run this year for secretary of state.

Just what part Governor Bailey will play in the 1938 political drama is something known only to the governor and possibly a few of his closest personal friends. He has not specifically said as yet whether he will offer for a second term or again seek a place in the senate.

British Post Office Is Jack of All Trades

LONDON—(AP)—Selling stamps and handling mail are only two of the things the postoffice does in the United Kingdom.

In addition, it runs the telephone and telegraph service, runs a cable service to the continent, supervises the British Broadcasting company, issues radio, shooting, and dog licenses, and does out old age pensions.

It makes an annual profit of $55,000,000 to $60,000,000, part of which goes to the government treasury and the rest to "reduction of cost and improvement of service."

Justice Cardozo Has Heart Attack

Improvement Is Seen in Statement Issued by Physician

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo has suffered several "alarms" heart attacks in the past few days and will have to be kept abed for some time, his physician, Dr. John Paul Earnest, said.

The 67-year-old justice, who has supported most Roosevelt policies coming before the supreme court, has been ill for about a month.

Dr. Earnest disclosed that two heart specialists had been called into consultation.

Justice Cardozo had a severe attack of shingles beginning about a month ago.

"The cuts pain from the shingles and his long confinement in bed have weakened the justice considerably."

"The weakened condition brought on heart attacks of some severity. These attacks occurred on several days during the past week and were alarming."

Since the attacks began, Dr. Earnest has been in almost daily consultation with Dr. Thomas S. Lee, heart specialist of this city, and Dr. John H. Keating, heart specialist of New York.

Dr. Keating visited Cardozo Sunday afternoon and then returned to New York. He said that when he would see the justice again was "indefinite" and would be decided by Doctor Earnest.

Cardozo, and independent democrat, was nominated to the supreme court by Herbert Hoover in February 1932.

For 19 years previously he had served in the high tribunal of the state of New York, the court of appeals. For six years he had been chief justice.

A slight man with pale, thin face and a shock of unruly white hair, Cardozo has shunned exercise and found recreation in reading—usually philosophy and history. His opinions, expressed in a smooth flow of carefully chosen words, have been described by his colleagues as "singing prose."

As a member of the supreme court, Cardozo has voted against Roosevelt administration acts only five times. The court's decisions were unanimous in those instances.

The has voted to uphold administration laws 22 times.

White Flag Raised Over Rich Port City of Shantung Province

TSINGTAO, China—(AP)—The white flag was raised Monday on Flagstaff Hill to signal the surrender of this rich Shantung province port to the forces of Japan.

Five Japanese destroyers are anchored in the harbor and Japanese marines have made a landing at Shantung, 18 miles down the beach, for a march into the city.

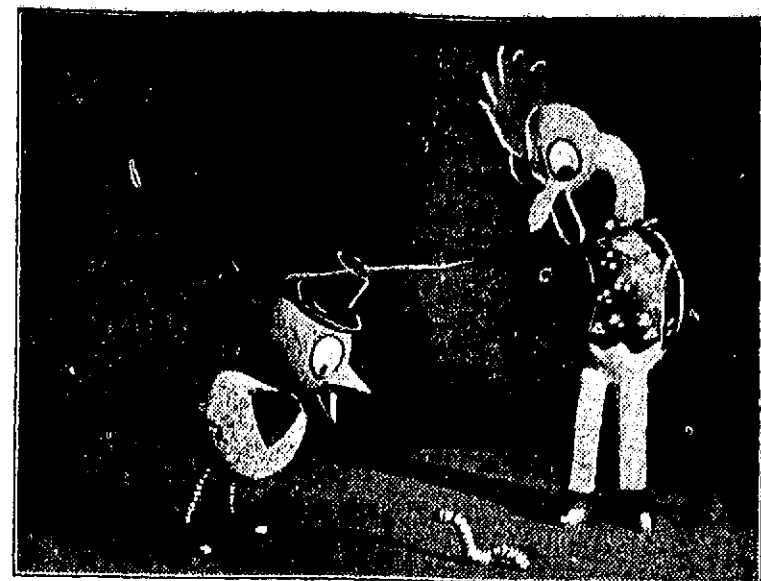

Japanese announced it was taking over the administration of the city and district.

A vast amount is being done by some people at home and abroad to create a war feeling, a war psychology.—U. S. Senator William Borah, Idaho.

I didn't like to ask my father for it.—Ada Hoffman, daughter of the governor of New Jersey, who worked in a department store to earn money for her Christmas shopping.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

TABLE-TOP HUMORETTES

Breakfast! A simple, humorous idea, simply and neatly told. The spotlight is a two-inch hole in a piece of cardboard, held in front of an amateur floodlight bulb. Exposure 1/2 second at f.16.

MOST amateur camera workers wait until they find a picture situation ready-made before they snap the shutter. Others have found that they do not have to wait—that they can often create a picture opportunity by selecting and arranging materials already at hand.

Still-life studies, of fruit, of flowers, of the play of light on textiles and glassware, are all examples of this creative method and a still-life expertly done can possess extraordinary beauty. Still-lives, however, require a keen sense of pictorial composition, judgment in lighting and a willingness to arrange and rearrange until everything is exactly right.

"Table-top" photography permits more latitude, particularly when the central idea is humorous. Here the emphasis is on telling a story, rather than developing an ideal arrangement of lights and shadows and textures. In consequence, the "table-top" worker can limit his labor to the story-telling essentials, and let supplementary considerations go.

Small toys, comical in themselves, are easy subjects to work with. Dolls are also convenient to use. The clever worker can construct funny figures from vegetables—for example, a carrot appropriately dressed and equipped with tiny wire spectacles can become a very presentable old lady. Cotton-and-wire pipe cleaners can be bent and combined into interesting action pictures—an instance would be adagio dancers on a stage. Good characters can also be made of modeling wax—and often the cruder the modeling the funnier the effect.

Scenic materials, when needed, are easy to get. Fluffy cotton makes excellent snow; small twigs make good trees; light brown sugar serves nicely for sand and a piece of glass laid over a dark cloth will do for water. Doll furniture is useful in realistic indoor sets.

Some amateurs build elaborate miniature stage settings for their "table-tops" just as if they were producing a professional motion picture. This can be fascinating work and often well worth while. But it is not imperative and can be avoided simply by selecting a story idea that does not demand realistic background.

"Table-topping" requires that the photographer work fairly close up to his subject. He can do this in two ways: either by using a portrait attachment over the lens of his camera or by using a camera with double-extension bellows. Cameras of the latter type will allow him to photograph small objects in their actual size and they usually have groundglass backs which help in focusing and arranging the picture. When a subject shows up too small on a negative, it is good practice to have it enlarged, with surplus margin masked out.

Try "table-topping." You'll like it. John van Guilder.

It's Now Bathtub Swing For Mary Garden

CHICAGO—(AP)—Mary Garden, whose voice once thrilled opera audiences, says Hollywood will be putting out operas within three years.

Now 40, she had been on a seven-months search for talent in New York, Paris and Corsica. She reported finding "lots of splendid voices" but said the young singers know nothing about opera.

"They need a new kind of training," she said, "for they are the singers who will bring opera to the screen. Not the same kind of opera I knew, but a glorious opera just the same."

Mary Garden still sings, too, but the bathtub is her stage.

"I haven't sung a note except in the bathtub since 1931 and don't intend to," she declared. "What is my bathtub music? Oh, such things as Cole Porter's 'I've Got You Under My Skin.'"

Miller's $500,000 will be left after the "Stork Derby" contestants carry the case to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council—highest court in the British empire.

If I could relieve 50 of my 75 years I would continue in baseball—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, on his 75th birthday.

Six months has been a perceptive lessening of tension in Europe, Italy's withdrawal from the League of Nations made no real difference.—Neville Chamberlain, Britain's Prime Minister.

Nation's Highest Salaries Revealed

Alfred P. Sloan, General Motors Head, Tops the List

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A congressional committee, making public the 1936 salaries of the nation's highest paid industrialists, movie stars and financiers, disclosed over the weekend that Alfred P. Sloan Jr., of General Motors, topped the list with $361,311. The House Ways and Means Committee divulged the information, which had been given to the Treasury by corporations which paid employees salaries, bonuses, commissions and other compensation of $15,000 or more during the 1936 tax year. Sixteen persons received in excess of $300,000 each for the year the report showed, and nine of them were officials of the General Motors Corporation. William S. Knudsen, its vice president in 1936 ranked second to Sloan with $459,878. The report showed that 336 General Motors Corporation officials received $15,000 or more and 56 of them got at least $50,000.

Gary Cooper Highest Paid
In the entertainment world, Gary Cooper was at the top with $370,214. Ten movie and radio stars received more than $200,000. In addition to Cooper, this group included Ronald Colman, $362,500; Claudette Colbert, $350,933; Mae West, who led the list for the preceding year, $323,333; Madeline Carroll $287,913; Warner Baxter, $284, 384; Marlene Dietrich, $296,333; Ruth Chatterton, $249,500; Charles Boyer, $249,145; and Rudy Vallee, $238,744.

Other Industrialists' Salaries
Some of the other top-flight industrialists and their compensation included:
Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, $180,000; Charles M. Schwab, Bethlehem board chairman, $150,000; James H. Rand Jr., president of Remington-Rand, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., $115,571; Ernest T. Weir, board chairman, Weirton Steel Company, Weirton, W. Va., $71,795. Weir also was listed as receiving an identical amount from the Great Lakes Steel Corporation.
J. D. Biggers, president of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company and director of the government's unemployment census, received $90,000. Henry L. Doherty, utilities executive, got $100,000, and W. C. Teagle, president, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, $122,500.

Prescott Hospital Meets Rules for Poor

FRESCOTT, Ark.—The Cora Donnell hospital, owned and operated by Dr. A. S. Buchanan, has been inspected and has met the requirements specified by the state before a hospital can receive indigent patients. Miss Frances Thornberg of Little Rock inspected the hospital and found its equipment satisfactory in every respect.

Care of the indigent sick is a part of the program outlined by the 1937 legislature. An appropriation of $200,000 was made for the work and will be distributed to hospitals throughout the state which meet the requirements.

White Sales Are Bride's Opportunity

A stunning lace tablecloth, breakfast set in pastel organdy, printed sheets and other equally lovely "company" linens—all guaranteed to please the seasoned homemaker as well as the prospective bride.

By MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—The foresighted prospective spring bride will buy now the linens she'll need for her new home. Towels, sheets, table cloths, bridge sets and other household linens never have been more attractive than those piled on mid-winter white sales counters. And the prices ought to please even the young girl who must start housekeeping on a shoestring.

Every bride knows that she will need an adequate supply of everyday sheets, pillow slips, towels, tea towels and the like. She knows that really good ones pay in the long run, that it's a mistake to try to use full-size sheets on a twin bed, or vice versa, that bath towels ought to be huge and soft and very absorbent.

Chance to Get Guest Linen
What she doesn't know—doesn't think much about, in fact—is how difficult life can seem the hour she discovers, immediately before the first house guests in the new home are to arrive, that she hasn't nearly enough "company" linen. (This never happened back in grandma's day, when every young girl had a hope chest; but it does now!)

Fingertip towels for tea, cocktail and dinner guests, larger guest towels, a perfectly handsome cloth for the table, lovely bed linens which will make the guests love the new home as much as she does—these are items every bride needs.

Breakfast and luncheon sets in white and pastel organdy, embroidered with tiny colorful flowers, are new. Plain white linen cocktail napkins, daintily monogrammed, are newer than colored ones with smart-aleck figurines and mottoes. For special luncheons, the finest linens are bordered with Milan or Point Paris line lace. And the designs in all lace doilies sets are patterned after rare old tapestries.

Clever, less formal luncheon clothes are self-applied in designs to carry out a story. And many are brightly appliqued with early spring fruits and flowers, such as red strawberries, purple tulips, and so on.

Individualized Bath Towels
For bathroom beds, there are simply stunning printed sheets and pillow slips with white, peach or blue design. Ultra fancy are silk sheets in all pastels—and black!

Among the most attractive bath towels are terra cotta ones with tall, slender, brown monograms. Also interesting combinations, such as China blue towels with pale peach monograms for you, and royal blue ones with deep peach monograms for the young bridegroom. Or pale beige with brown letters for you, and brown with beige initials for him. These are simply stunning. Furthermore, they help to ward off the first argument—the one about which towel belongs to whom.
